Carmel Junior High Celebrates First Graduation

JUNE IS THE MONTH FOR WEDDINGS

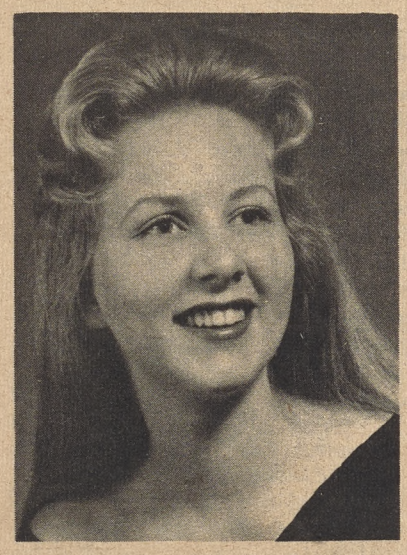
Jennie Wolter Luce (right), a bride herself not long ago, adjusts the wedding veil for Beth Waylett, now Mrs. William Betts -- another of Carmel Valley's favorite daughters. The two young matrons, both of whom contributed so much to the community while growing up in Carmel Valley have been friends since childhood. For wedding story, another picture, see page 4.

FOUR HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES FROM CV WIN COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIPS

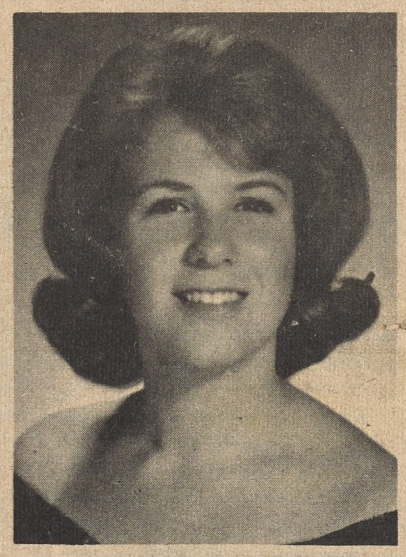
Four Carmel Valley young people who graduated from CHS last week have won awards to help them on their way to college.

In addition to the four students shown, approximately 30 high school seniors from the Valley received their diplomas from retiring Carmel superintendent Stuart Mitchell.



Ruth Ann Botten

Ruth Ann Botten of Berwick Drive, winner of a California State scholarship, will enroll this fall at Occidental College, majoring in a scientific field. She will spend her summer camping with her family across the country, eventually visiting her mother's family in West Virginia. Her parents are Cdr. and Mrs. Ralph Botten.

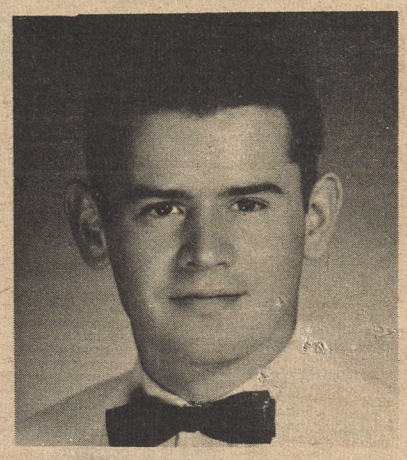


Franci Antoncich

Franci Antoncich will use her grant from the Carnival Scholarship Fund at San Francisco State next year. In line with her plans to become a teacher of drama and English, she has worked with White Oaks Theatre throughout the winter, and will be in charge of the box office there during the current season. She is also studying dancing and jazz ballet and will have a small part in one of this summer's productions. Franci is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Antoncich of Upper Circle.

Judy Taylor

A transfer student from Conellsville, Pa., Judy Taylor plans to defer using her Carnival scholarship until she has completed a year at MPC. The following year she expects to spend in Germany, preparing for an eventual major in languages. She has a job this summer at Blue Sky Lodge. Judy is the younger sister of John E. Taylor of Rancho Road.



Dennis Hermanson

A former Peninsula resident, Dennis Hermanson spent his first high school year at Monterey, the next two in Sierra Vista, Arizona, finishing up at Carmel. The son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Jack Hermanson of [illegible], Dennis was also awarded a scholarship by the Carnival fund. He will work as a bus boy at Wills Fargo during the summer, and will attend MPC in the fall. His choice of schools after two years will depend upon the major he chooses at MPC.

Sharon Predmore — MPC Honors

Among the 1963 graduates of Monterey Peninsula College who received gold pins symbolizing permanent membership in Chi Chapter of Alpha Gamma Sigma, California women's junior college honorary society, was Sharon Predmore of Carmel Valley. With the highest grade point average, Sharon was singled out for inclusion on the AGS placque in the college library.

Sharon is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Predmore of Country Club Drive in Carmel Valley. She majored in International relations at MPC, will continue in a more specialized vein with a major in Latin American studies at UCLA next fall. She has been interested in International Relations since she read the nove., "The Ugly American" in early high school days, she says, and hopes to enter the Foreign Service eventually. This summer she is working at Fort Ord in the Finance and Accounting Division as a clerk-typist.

Of her 3.90 grade point average, Sharon said, "I was amazed, myself, to hear it--I won't quite believe it until I get my grades." (These were due last Wednesday.)

STREET NAMES AND SUCH

In this week's Letters column, Dr. Anita Krause writes that both the OUTLOOK and its big brother in the world of journalism, the Monterey Peninsula HERALD, have been misspelling the name of a Carmel Valley street. Who could dispute the word of a retired professor of Spanish regarding the use of a Spanish word?

In defense, we can only point out that the errors in the two newspapers undoubtedly came from the same source: the County Planning Commission's agenda which announced the hearing for the Schwarz Memorial Bench. Only Tuesday we received another of their agendas referring to the Saulsbury residence as located at the corner of "El Cammito". (Page 1, we corrected it.)

To us, one of the most puzzling aspects of the Caminito-Cammito problem has always been that some of our subscribers on that street spell it one way, some the other. We have taken the easy way out by addressing each subscriber's metal subscription plate according to his individual preference. But once we drove the torturous length of that entire street, convinced that somehow there must be two--perhaps some small spur road unmarked on the Valley map? (No.)

INCONSISTENCIES

And oh yes--the official Carmel Valley map uses "El Cammito." Also, we're fairly sure that the CV directory used that incorrect form as late as 1961, the edition in use when we bought the OUTLOOK in January, 1962.

You see, we were from the beginning uneasy about "El Cammito" and at that time queried a CV oldtimer about it. We were told firmly, "It has always been spelled that way," so bowed reluctantly to what we thought was local custom, as we have in some more important disputes. (You see, we think that in general it is the duty of a community newspaper to represent a community, rather than try--as quite a few of our more militant subscribers have suggested--to lead it.

VALLEY PUBLICATIONS

Anyhow, the directory evidently changed to the correct spelling in 1962, but the map continues the error. Odd, because they are both published by the same person--Ralph Erion, who in partnership with Arthur Reichert formerly owned the OUTLOOK and sold it to us. (Mr. Reichert, incidentally, now publishes the Carmel Valley Shopper, the advertising circular you find occasionally in your mailbox. So many people think we publish it --AND the map--AND the directory--that we like to take any opportunity to clear up these misunderstandings.)

At any rate, now that Dr. Krause has given what can only be THE correct answer to the road-name question, we hope the county will change their records AND the sign. This is the third misspelled street sign found in Carmel Valley since we took over this paper. The first was "Via Mallorca" (since changed by the county, dropping the extra "l"). The second was "Scarlet Road," named for oldtime residents, the Scarlett family. (This sign has never been changed, since the elder Mr. Scarlett stated magnanimously that it "made no difference" to him.)

HOW?

How do responsible agencies such as county governments and newspapers make errors in spelling? It's a cinch! ANYbody can do it!

We're pretty certain, however, that the "El Cammito" error arose through someone's spiky handwriting, or the omission of a dot over an "i". How similar the appearance of "min" and "mm" in certain handwritings! (Try it!)

Similarly, the Herald early this week reported a fire in a car driven by a Mrs. "Hunitz." Being familiar with most Valley names, we were instantly certain it was Phyllis Heinitz. (How similar "u" and "ei" in certain handwritings! Try it!)

And to those people who are always telling us we must have gotten something-or-other wrong because the HERALD had it another way, we can only say "Ha!"

Boy, we sure rambled on this one, didn't we?

Anyhow, thank you, Dr. Krause.

VILLAGE CLEANUP ?

Last week one Jim Smith of Toledo, Ohio, wrote a letter to the editor complaining about the unsightly conditions of certain commercial establishments in Carmel Valley Village, suggesting that the Chamber of Commerce tackle the situation.

In response came word from C. of C. prexy Jack Cowan, through executive secretary Lory Swiess, that the problem will be discussed at an executive committee session prior to the Chamber's next meeting, scheduled for July 10.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

STREET NAMES

Dear Mrs. Branch:

May I suggest through your columns that steps be taken to correct the error on the street sign found at the juncture of Carmel Valley Road and El Caminito? The in of the Spanish word caminito, meaning lane or byway has, through a slip, been converted into an m producing the form Cammito.

The name of the street is given correctly in addresses published in the local Telephone Directory, I have noted. However, the article in the Outlook announcing the placing of a memorial to the late Robert Schwarz on the plot bordering El Caminito and Carmel Valley Rd. picked up the garbled version of the street name which appeared also in the reference to this news item found in the Monterey Peninsula Herald.

At a time when the mayor of Carmel among other California representatives are paying homage to Fray Junipero Serra in Palma on the island of Mallorca, it seems only proper that we residents of Carmel Valley seek to perpetuate the local color found in the Spanish street names of the Village area and of Robles del Rio.

Sincerely,
Anita Krause

(Ed. note: Dr. Krause, a professor emeritus of Spanish now retired and a Valley resident, has given what can only be the definitive answer to a long-puzzling question. See page 2, "Bits and Pieces", for comment.)

Dear Marjory,

Thanks for taking up the problem of pedestrians or cyclers on Highway One and the lower Carmel Valley Road--a problem that is long over-due for solving. The footpath seems to be the answer to a question that has been plaguing many parents....

My real fear is that if this footpath plan is not pushed through now, it will be forgotten until some child is killed or critically injured. I have seen many "close calls" from my kitchen window in the past year.

As the mother of four busy youngsters, I will be happy to assist in any way, whether it be gathering interested parents together to form a committee to help obtain signatures on proper petitions to show the county and the state that there is sincere interest; or collecting donations, if the path must be built by money from public subscription.

Sincerely,
Mrs. K. H. Holbrook

Two Valley Applications To Plancom

Two applications concerning property in Carmel Valley will come before the Planning Commission on Tuesday, June 25. Both requests are for use permits.

Phil Calabrese has petitioned for a four-year renewal of his permit to operate a rock-crusher on river property which is part of the Wolters brothers' ranch; the activity has been in process for four years at the present time.

Mrs. Emily Saulsbury is asking permission to reconvert for use as a dwelling a building now used for storage on her property at Via Contenta and El Caminito. A permit is needed because the land is in a commercially zoned district.

SQUARE DANCERS' PICNIC SUNDAY AT ARROYO SECA

Families and friends of the Silver Slippers and Slipperettes are invited to a picnic beginning at noon Sunday at Miller's Picnic Area Arroyo Seco. Everyone is urged to attend as a gala affair is planned. Please bring your own table service, a potluck dish, and meat for barbecuing. Music and calling will be furnished by Archie Fleming. There will be a 4-piece western band.

WHAT WILL JOHNNY DO THIS SUMMER? HE'LL GO TO SUMMER SCHOOL!

A 65 percent increase over last year in registration for summer school in Carmel Unified School District has astounded the staff, will fill every classroom at Carmel High School plus the sewing room at the Junior High, and has necessitated the hiring of several additional teachers to fill the demand.

Registration closed Tuesday with 928 students enrolled in grades 2 through 12, compared to 688 last year. The summer sign-up represents almost one-third of the district's total enrollment of 2600. Classes begin next Monday, June 24.

No late registrants will be accepted until Tuesday, June 25, when the places of "no-show" students will be filled by latecomers. Parents whose children did not enroll for summer school and who now wish them to do so should simply bring their children to the high school on that date.

From the Valley, the school bus will leave Tularcitos School at 7:45, due to arrive at the High School at 8:25. Charles Dawson, principal of the summer schools (both children's and adult), says that no accurate estimate can be made for pick-ups at in-between points, so that students waiting along the road will have to judge the probable schedule for themselves. He suggests allowing "plenty of time".

The Valley busses will leave the high school at 12:30. Dawson explained that youngsters needing bus transportation would not be allowed to take one or two courses and "wander around off-campus" the rest of the morning. This means that any child from Carmel Valley going to summer school must sign up for a full 4-hours morning course, or his parents must take responsibility for his transportation where his schedule does not coincide with the bus schedule.

Dawson says that the summer program is not a remedial one, but is designed "to give the experience and feeling of success to some students who have not been successful before." There will be one remedial section only--covering both reading and mathematics. But the great majority of children will be "placed at a level of regular instruction where they can succeed."

Said Mrs. Dawson, who is secretary to her husband, "The phone has just never stopped ringing--the size of the enrollment has been so fantastic, it almost had us snowed!"

STUDENT EMPLOYMENT SERVICE IS HOPPING

It's a co-incidence that could happen once a century, reports Phyllis Howard of the Student Employment Service: 47 boys from Carmel Unified School District have registered to find jobs this year, 47 girls from the same area, and the SES has filled 47 job openings since June 1.

This does not mean, however, that half the students registering from this area are now fully employed. Some job openings are for a half-day or a day--in some cases, one student may have filled more than one job order.

In more detail, the local juvenile labor market this summer via SES includes 29 boys and 32 girls who are students at Carmel High School; 9 boys and 12 girls from the Carmel-CV area who attend Monterey Peninsula College, and 9 boys and 3 girls whose parents reside permanently in this area but who attend colleges or universities elsewhere.

Although the job capabilities of the youthful applicants fill 79 different categories, yard work, child care, mother's helper, waitress, and kitchen helper are the types of work most frequently sought.

There are also one or two students signed up for such technical or semi-professional jobs as aquatic biologist, commercial artist, cryptographer, dental assistant, draftsman, electronics technician, licensed vocational nurse, lifeguard, etc.

The Student Employment Service, a special service of the State Employment Service, exists solely for the purpose of placing the children of families permanently located here. Foreign students at Monterey Peninsula College seek work through the Foreign Student Counselor there, within the limitations of their individual visas.

BETH WAYLETT WEDS WILLIAM BETTS

White and yellow stock and gladioli decorated the Carmel Valley Community Chapel on June 16 when Beth Bingham Waylett was married to William Alfred Betts in a 2 p. m. ceremony performed by Rev. Don Johnson. A reception followed at Robles Del Rio Lodge.

Beth is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bingham Waylett of Valle Vista Road. She was very active in 4-H work while growing up in the Valley, also taught in the Community Chapel Sunday school and summer Bible school. A 1962 graduate of California State Polytechnic College, she now is a kindergarten teacher at Mission Park School in Salinas.

Her husband also is a Cal Poly graduate. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Archie Betts of Salinas.

For her wedding Beth donned an embroidered white silk organza gown which had a fitted bodice with scoop neckline, elbow length sleeves and a cummerbund marking the waistline above a floor-length bell skirt. A crown of pearls held her English illusion veil and she carried a bouquet of yellow rosebuds and gardenias.

Jennie Wolters Luce, a friend since childhood, was matron of honor clad in a street-length yellow organza dress. Best man was Ronnie Johnson of Chualar. Nina and Christine Drachenfels were in charge of the guest book.

Because of the bride's fondness for children, she invited all guests to bring their children to the wedding and many of those present at the ceremony remarked about the cheerful, bright, young faces around them.

A yellow rosebud corsage set off Beth's going away dress, a tan homespun belted shift, which she had made herself.

After their honeymoon, the young couple will live in Salinas where the bridegroom is an inspector for the State Department of Agriculture.

BOTH VALLEY THEATRES NOW OPEN FOR SUMMER

Valley playgoers may choose henceforth between two theatre attractions each weekend, as White Oaks Theatre opens its 1963 summer season with "The Philadelphia Story" and the Tantamount presents Broadway caricaturist Don Freeman in three performances June 21 and 22.

The comedy by Philip Barry, acclaimed as "sparkling, sophisticated, and completely captivating" by Broadway reviewers, will run Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings through July 14. The play is a light-hearted romance dealing with love among the social levels. Of interest to Valley residents is the presence in the cast of Toni Brandt, daughter of Sam and Judi of the post office, playing the heroine's younger sister.

White Oaks patrons are invited to bring picnic suppers to the outdoor lobby before the show. Coffee and conversation with the staff and acting company are available during intermission and following the performance.

TANTAMOUNT

Don Freeman's "Sketchbook Revue", the Tantamount Theatre offering, is a one-man show centered around the entertainer's drawing board. He combines music, sound effects, and lights with his cartoonist's skill to bring to life Broadway celebrities and other characters drawn from his long career as staff artist on leading New York newspapers. His matinee performance Saturday, June 22, will be especially planned to appeal to young people, whose favor he has already gained through a number of picture-story books.

Details of times, prices, and reservation phone numbers appear in the two theatres' current ads to be found elsewhere in this paper.

" DINAH LORD" IN
WHITE OAKS PRODUCTION

Next weekend, Friday and Saturday, June 28 and 29, the Tantamount will present a nostalgic evening of Charlie Chaplin movies--silent, with musical scores. The performances are public, not reserved for members of their Movies Club. Admission will be $1.

Celebrating the opening of the White Oaks summer season, Geddis and Martin, proprietors of the Tantamount, and their new promotion director, David Weaver of Boronda Road, last week entertained members of the White Oaks group for an informal outdoor supper followed by an impromptu Punch & Judy show on Tantamount's puppet stage.

Don Freeman Demoralizes Outlook Staff

Don Freeman demoralized the OUTLOOK staff this week by dropping in at deadline time and drawing like mad. In a trice he produced four caricatures that no newspaper crew could resist using even if they did have to tear up page 5 for the purpose. Two drawings are characters from two of his books; one is a self-portrait; and one is Ye Ed. 'Nuff said!

Let's Get Going on That Footpath !

BY MARJORY LLOYD

School is out and summer stretches ahead for children living in Mission Fields, South Carmel Hills, and Hatton Fields Mesa. For any activity which will take them outside their immediate neighborhoods, on foot, they must cross or follow roadways where already heavy traffic is swelled by tourist travel.

Pedestrian paths would enable these children to circulate safely on foot all summer. Next fall those who will attend Carmel Junior High could walk safely to school.

(Because no safe pedestrian paths exist in the above areas, the Carmel Unified School District this past year spent almost $3000 providing bus transportation for junior high students from the three subdivisions, all within walking distance of the school.)

A map in last week's OUTLOOK showed possible routes for paths linking the three residential areas to Carmel Valley Road. While the children enjoy the summer holiday, the community could develop the path. Steps necessary to obtain it are:

1. Obtain permission from State Division of Highways to use rights-of-way on Highway One, and to install crosswalks and stoplights.

(The Division of Highways has already stated that there will be no objection to the use of rights-of-way for a pedestrian path developed by community enterprise. The division is not allowed by law to provide such paths, however.)

2. Obtain permission from California Water and Telephone Company to use a 20-foot easement which it owns across 2 lots in the South Carmel Hills.

(The Water Company has already indicated that it is possible to get permission to use their easement.)

3. Obtain permission from the County of Monterey for pedestrian use of 15-foot wide drainage lanes existing between streets on Hatton Fields Mesa.

(see Tom Hudson's reply in box at right.)

4. Obtain permission from four private owners for the path to cross their property. These owners include subdividers of South Carmel Hills and owners of land now in the process of being acquired by the state for the Hatton Canyon freeway.

5. A sum of money ($500-$700, according to an engineer's estimate) must be raised to pay for grading.

(There are groups within the community which annually allocate funds to benefit youth... Private donations might also be sought.)

6. A contractor must be employed to do the grading.

(The necessary grading for the paths will not damage highway screening; with the right equipment the work could be done in a few hours, according to the same engineer.)

WHO?

The logical group to undertake the path project appears to be the Parents Club at Carmel Junior High School. During the past year this organization became discouraged and abandoned further efforts to obtain any paths.

Perhaps the new executive board could be persuaded to take a more sanguine attitude. Or perhaps some other group may become interested enough in the safety of their children, or saving taxpayers' money, to spearhead a movement.

Once begun, interest in the project will mushroom. As a starter, this writer will donate $10 towards the path.

Hudson: Jr. High Students Should Walk to School

Junior high school students SHOULD walk to school, County Supervisor Tom Hudson stated strongly early this week. "If they'd all walk to school, or ride a bike or a horse, we wouldn't have so many of them turned down when it came time to pass their army physicals," said Hudson.

"I'm strongly against busses for children of that age or older who live within walking distance of a school," he continued.

Hudson said that 52% of the county tax dollar goes to the school system and, "it's about time we started saving some of that somewhere."

Hudson was asked if the county would grant permission for Hatton Fields youngsters to walk through the 15-foot drainage easements running between Trevis, Taylor, Lazarro and Rio Roads.

Said he, "They don't NEED permission. If it's a public easement and the kids want to use it, Okay! Just let them go ahead."

Graduation Repercussion

The sequel of the outing at Saddle Mt. Ranch is perhaps the most amusing. Proprietors Milt and Marie Frumkin have a daughter, Teresa, a member of the Junior High's graduating class, and a son, Milton, Jr., in the just-graduated class of Carmel High School. Witnessing the "bash" of his little sister's classmates, Milton determined not to be outdone and made an impromptu announcement at the high school's final assembly. He invited all HIS classmates to the Ranch on Saturday. Determined to have the last word, Teresa invited HER classmates to the family recreation park on Saturday, TOO.

They ALL came.

Marie said that she would not have minded a BIT except that her mother-in-law was visiting and didn't quite know what to make of it all. But they had a BALL!

High School Seniors Dance All Night

The best-kept secret of the season--the plans of Carmel High's graduating class for its all-night party after their commencement exercises--resulted in a safe, sane, and super celebration. The partying was planned by a group of students and parents under the chairmanship of Mrs. Don Lyon of Carmel.

Dancing to Dick Burley's Band followed the presentation of diplomas and a joyful recessional march up the aisles of King Hall at the Naval Postgraduate School. Recharged by supper at midnight, the class adjourned to Cypress Bowl, where from 1:00 to 6:00 a. m. they expressed their jubilation bowling and dancing, with more refreshments at intervals. Breakfast shortly after daybreak finished off the evening. (Evening?)

Class members were not available for comment until some 12 to 24 hours later.

Super Party For Jr. High

For Carmel Junior High School's first graduating class, a committee of parents aided by their 9th grade offspring, planned and carried through a gala outing which will long be remembered.

It started with a surprise assembly at 1:00 p. m., where a group of parents and teachers entertained their charges with antics that would have had them in the aisles if there had been any (the gymnasium, used for large assemblages, isn't exactly a traditional theatre.)

Students were then transported by bus to Saddle Mountain Ranch in Carmel Valley. Not all had remembered to wear their bathing suits under their school clothes, but according to the reports some of the forgetful ones went merrily swimming anyway. Games of all sorts sparked the evening, and a supper was elegantly catered by the Peninsula's well-known Vince Colleto.

A complete picture-story by George T. C. Smith appears on pages 8-9, sponsored by a group of local business people. (perhaps some graduates will show their new maturity by remembering to say "thank you!")

Notes from Hacienda Carmel

BY MARJORIE WEBER

The first half of June has included a number of unusually interesting events and programs at Hacienda Carmel.

Deserving of early mention was the gay, informal late afternoon party on June 3 to welcome back the newly-wed couple, Mr. and Mrs. George Petty (the new Mrs. Petty is the former Elizabeth Hetzel), whose marriage in late May represents the culmination of the first romance within the membership of the Hacienda Carmel Association.

Other recent events have centered around programs presented by young people for the entertainment of Hacienda residents. On Sunday afternoon, June 2, we had the pleasure of hearing a piano and organ recital by talented young pupils of Mrs. Margaret Aitkinhead, who has been teaching music on the Monterey Peninsula for a number of years. The recital included excellently performed solo selections on both the piano and the organ, as well as duets, which achieved a blending of the two instruments in a very pleasing harmony.

On Saturday evening, June 8, the drama class of the Carmel Junior High School, which has been so generous in giving us the opportunity to enjoy their dramatic productions, offered an interesting program, presenting a scene from "Arsenic and Old Lace," an old Broadway hit, a scene from "Anastasia", and a one-act play by Thornton Wilder. These presentations were again under the direction of Miss Diana Hardy, and again the audience was shown how much talent can be developed among young persons still in their early teens.

On June 12, the Monterey Peninsula Opera Workshop, directed by Nancy Ness Bowman, provided a charming evening of music by the young singers in her workshop as a finale before its disbanding for the summer. The program included numbers ranging all the way from operatic arias and ensembles to a barbershop quartet. Included also were a number of songs from favorite musical comedies. As before, when we have had the privilege of hearing the young Workshop singers, the large audience was delighted by the quality of the singing, and also by the outstanding skill of their accompaniest, Camille Oleata. We are eagerly looking forward to their promised return in the autumn, when we shall be able to hear them in our new building "Casa Fiesta", which will have an auditorium seating some 400 persons, and a stage.

Carmel Youth Center Seeks Rummage

During the last two weeks in July, the Carmel Youth Center will again benefit from the proceeds of the Thrift Shop operated by the Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services.

Naturally, the members of the Youth Center are attempting to round up rummage for the Thrift Shop. They will be glad to pick up new or used goods if prospective donors will telephone MA 4-3285 or MA 4-8503. Merchandise may also be dropped off at the Carmel Youth Center.

BPW BRUNCH

The Carmel Business and Professional Women's Club held its annual Sunday Brunch last week at the home of Mrs. Joe Baudouin on Carmel Valley Rd. Breakfast was served in the garden under the oak trees. Red-checked tablecloths covered the tables which were decorated with succulents and giant stem strawberries in tall glass epergnes.

Guests of club members included Mesdames C. H. Raymond, Talma Wolfe, M. Setzer, Letha Lingquist, Lucy Pride, Sarah Weaver, and Irene Goodnow, Susan Pride, Margaret Thomas, Florence Smythe, Mildred Weeks and Edith Goodnow of Hollister, and Pauline Roe of Long Beach.

Patricia Lane acted as exhibitor and auctioneer for a White Elephant sale. Mary Elizabeth Thomsen, president, gave a report on the state BPW convention

It was "Open House" recently at the Dick Frazers of Robles del Rio. Houseguest included the Frazer's brother-in-law, Charles Lewis of Detroit who had flown to San Francisco on business. Mr. Lewis heads the sales department of the newly formed Chrysler Parts Division in Michigan. Also visiting has been Mr. Frazer's cousin, Jack Baker and wife, Nora, who were here on their annual Calif. visit from their home just outside Manila. Mr. Baker is president of the Philippine Air Freight Lines. On Saturday night, the Frazers were hosts to 50 at a Roma Notte (night in Rome) Party, a tradition started by former Robles neighbors, Anne and Joe Parsons.

Wine tasting, a spaghetti feed, and an informal "hootennany" provided the evening's entertainment. Guests included friends from the MPC faculty, the Frazers' houseguests, Fred Goerner of KCBS's "Spectrum 74", and Gloria and Brent Stockwell--he's the producer of the same show. Mr. Goerner and Mr. Stockwell were here to broadcast the races at Laguna Seca. A speedy "get well" to the Frazer's 8 1/2-year old daughter Robyn who added more excitement to the celebration by breaking out with a glorious case of Measles!

Moving this week from their Valley home on Calle de Quien Sabe to a new residence in Los Gatos are the Charlie Allaires and family. Dr. and Mrs. Edward Arana and daughter have purchased their home and will be moving down from Aptos so that Dr. Arana can set up his dental practice in Monterey.

"Emergency Delivery of Babies" a Navy film, was shown last week to members of the Volunteer Fire Department and First Aid Squad. Chief R. D. Ellis of Oak Knoll Naval Hospital in Oakland and Dr. Russell Pratt of Carmel were on hand to instruct the men who would provide assistance should there not be time to make that 20 minute drive to the Community Hospital!

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schenck left last week end for Monrovia where Dick will attend the summer session at UCLA accumulating credits towards his second Master's degree. Dick, who has been an English instructor at the Monterey High school for three years, will be at the new Seaside High school when fall term begins.

Members of the Auxiliary of the Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Department met last week at the home of Mrs. Larry Cummings on Los Agrimensors. Initial plans for the fall fashion show were made with the appointment of Mrs. William Conlan as general chairman of the annual event.

Students weren't the only ones receiving achievement awards on the final day of school according to the large merit badge presented Mrs. Viola Belleman by her third graders at Tularcitos proclaiming her as "the best teacher in the whole world"!

Off for a summer in Mexico are Ginny and Bob Drew of Lower Circle. With children, Leslie, Greg and Alan, the Drews will locate for a month and a half near their former home in Oaxaca and spend the remainder of the summer traveling from Mexico's west to east coast. Summer residents occupying the Drew home are Professor and Mrs. Paul Zinner and family of Davis, where Professor Zinner is in the Political Science department at Cal.

U N DELEGATES TO STAY IN VALLEY

"The most I ever knew about Hungary was to stand on my ridge looking east and think 'It's out there somewhere,'" commented Ruth Dodds on the homeland of the United Nations delegate she was expecting to entertain this week. Through the local chapter of the World Affairs Council she received the name of Mr. Zoltan Szilasyi, third secretary of the Hungarian delegation, one of a group of 21 UN delegates being flown to the Peninsula as part of their tour of California.

"His personal interest is sightseeing, which makes it easy," she said. Depending on the gentleman's state of exhaustion after a heavy schedule in San Francisco, she intended to show him the Big Sur area, the Seventeen-Mile Drive, and the Customs House and some of the historical adobes in Monterey.

Miss Dodds planned two very small private dinners for her guest, and he was also to attend the luncheon Thursday for the entire group at Mrs. Robert Stanton's on Scarlett Road.

Two other delegates, Ismail Fahmy, Counsellor from the United Arab Republic, and Per Eide, Special Advisor from Norway, were to be house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Thomas.

They were to attend a family dinner where they would meet five American teenagers, one of whom will shortly enter the Institute of Foreign Studies in Monterey. As both delegates expressed an interest in agriculture and labor relations, a trip through the Salinas Valley was planned for them in addition to the scenic tours.

FIRE, AID CALLS

Fire totally destroyed a 1948 model car driven by Mrs. Heinitz Saturday on Esquiline Road. Carmel Valley Volunteer firemen were summoned at 3 p. m. to control the fire that began in the back seat.

A head-on collision occurred at 6:37 p. m. June 14 near Reuben's on Carmel Valley Road. The first aid crew from the Volunteer fire department transported William Howard Mitzer 951 Lane St., Monterey, to the Community Hospital with lacerations of the forehead. The A-1 Ambulance Service took occupants of the other car. They were Mrs. Charlotte Cahoon of Jamesburg Route who sustained lacerations of the face and Miss Ada Blomquist of the same area with lacerations of the chin.

BOB FORD LEAVES VALLEY

Robles Del Rio won't seem the same without Bob Ford, report his neighbors. One of CV's few remaining bona fide cowboys, he came to the Valley to live shortly after World War I. Bob would be happy to have visits from his old friends or to receive letters or cards. He has gone to live with his son, Bob Ford, Jr., at 48 Railroad Ave., Spreckels, Calif.

First Winners In Ad Contest

A completely re-written ad for Security National Bank and a portfolio of three other ads--a complete advertising campaign, in fact--won the prize for the best re-write of an Outlook ad in the June 6 issue.

Sted Wood, West Garzas Road, sent in the winning entry. His entry will also be considered for the end-of-month prize, along with the entries of those winning the remaining weekly prizes this month.

Honorable mention goes to Susan Stone, Los Ranchitos, and Ora R. Fallis of Carmel. Mrs. Stone chose to re-do an advertisement for Joanne and came up with a fresh, new idea. Miss Fallis found a new way to present the ad for the Smorgas Table.

With this issue there are two more chances. Winners of the contest for the June 13 issue will be announced next week.

This fun contest is open to all. Just choose an ad from this issue of the Outlook and send us a letter telling us how you would improve it. The best letter receives a prize of $5 and will be considered for the end-of-month prize of an additional $10. Artistic ability is not required, but you may send a simple sketch if you wish.

All entries must be received within ten days of publication of the ad and become the property of this newspaper. Judging by the Outlook staff is final.

Why not pick out your ad right now? It could be a winner.

Send entries to ADS, Outlook, Box 285, Carmel Valley.

DR. ROSS C. STEELE

Dr. Ross C. Steele of Carmel died unexpectedly last week in Palo Alto at the Veterans Administration Hospital. He was given full military rites at Golden Gate National Cemetery in San Bruno.

Survivors are his wife, Lois, of Carmel, and three sisters and a brother, all living in Southern California.

Dr. Steele was for many years a resident of Carmel Valley and moved to Carmel when he retired about a year ago.

CV 'Hams' Camp at Chews Ridge This Weekend for National Field Day

BY JEANNINE BOTTARO

This weekend the electronics-minded men of the Carmel Valley Amateur Radio Club will join "hams" from all parts of the Peninsula in a camp-out on Chews Ridge in order to participate in the annual Field Day of the National Radio Relay League to be held on June 22 this year. Chews Ridge has been chosen as the local broadcast point because it's the highest spot in the area. The radiomen will lug their transmitter equipment and camping gear into the mountains Friday evening and return Sunday. All day Saturday they will be contacting "hams" all over the country--and whenever possible, in foreign countries. It's sort of a Ham Jamboree, object to see how many contacts can be logged.

The local Club grew out of the "Bandjammers," a group of Peninsula Hams who get together informally on the air Sunday mornings to "chew the rag." They have numbered up to 25 operators at times, and now and again get together with their wives for a pizza party or a Sunday morning breakfast. The group's purpose is to have fun with its hobby.

The club members range all the way from novices to highly knowledgeable professionals in the radio field. W.E. "Pop" Viljoen started as a "Sparks" aboard merchant ships in the infant days of radio, and has one of the earliest set of call letters in existence. Reg Bennett (WA6NZQ) began "hamming" as a boy of 12 in Maine. Ben Viljoen (K6QJF) also began learning the hobby from his Ham dad at an early age, and Tom Bottaro (WA6KFQ) took it up in self defense, he says, so that he could understand what his two Viljoen in-laws were talking about! Jack Bruce (WA6UVS) a retired naval officer, now has plenty of time for his hobby. He is champion of the group in contacting those far-away places with the strange-sounding names. Dean Litts is learning radio from his neighbor Bruce, and is working for his license, as is Ed Vanetti.

SAW NEED

About a year ago, when the Carmel Valley operators saw the need for a communications arm of the recently organized civil defense organization, they volunteered help and formed their own group, now meeting once a month at members' homes in the Valley.

"Hams" all over the world have gained a reputation for community service from the many instances in which they have saved lives, directed rescue parties, and relayed emergency information. The local group feels strongly this spirit in their radio hobby. Indeed many are the exciting tales the members can tell of their own involvement in some radio adventures.

RACES

The Carmel Valley "Hams" are tackling the problem now of seeking Federal authorization to become part of what is known as RACES (Radio Amateur Civil Emergency Service). Amateur members of this service group would be permitted to operate in time of national emergency. All other civilian and amateur operations would cease.

Official authorization carries with the goal and responsibility of being official communications and monitoring media. The local communications group will then become a link in a statewide RACES communications network.

PIONEERS

"The major problem in getting State and Federal okay," say the members, "is that we are the

CV LITTLE LEAGUE

BY DORIS MARK

In Tuesday's game the Red Sox defeated the Giants 17-2. The game was called in the third inning and in spite of the one-sided score, there were no outstanding plays by either side.

Thursday the Volunteers were defeated by the Pistons 8-2. Randy Siino led the batting with a home run. Kevin Sullivan was credited with a double.

Saturday the Pistons were leading the Giants 6-0, with the odds all in favor of the Pistons. The Giants rallied and won the ball game, 9-8! This game kept the crowd on the edge of their seats throughout and goes to show that no team has the game in the bag until the third out in the last half of the sixth inning!

Batting power for the Giants was John O'Neal with a triple and Dale Butler, Mike Simons, and Tom Boyd with doubles. Heading up the Pistons were Kevin Sullivan with a triple and John DeBroder with a double.

In the second game of the afternoon, the Volunteers lost their game to the Red Sox, 9-1. Hard hitting Ricky Davis slammed a 2-run homer and the Hall boys, Ricky and Malcolm, chalked up doubles.

In the Farm League the undefeated Dodgers trounced the Yankees, 23-5.

Leukemia Drive

More volunteers are needed for the first appeal of the newly formed Monterey Peninsula Chapter of the Leukemia Society, Inc. Now in progress, the drive will extend through June 23. There will be door-to-door solicitation and a telephone appeal on the evening of June 19.

Carmel or Valley residents wishing to volunteer, make donations, or merely to seek information should call Mrs. Jean McDonald of Rancho Canada at MA 4-1141 or Miss Ruth Dodds of Encino Drive at OL 9-2076. Both these Valley residents are board members of the society; Mrs. McDonald is secretary.

Other members of the board include Mrs. Saul Weingarten (president), Mrs. Charles Strosnider, Rev. David Hill, William Godwin, and Dr. E.H. Wedlake.

Leukemia is an always-fatal disease which strikes all ages and is on the increase. To combat the rise of the disease, the Leukemia Society has a 3-fold plan of operation: it will support research to seek the causes and cure, carry on a program of public education, and aid victims and members of their families. The latter are principal benefactors of the local chapters of the Leukemia Society. Leukemia sufferers on the Monterey Peninsula, through the local drive, will be aided by medicine procurement. Members of their immediate family may receive such services as babysitting, counseling and guidance, etc.

Tularcitos Honors

Six Tularcitos students were awarded honors in an afternoon ceremony at the school on Thursday, June 13. The Carmel Valley Kiwanis awarded dictionaries to four sixth-graders: leadership, Bobby Kvenild; scholarship, Nina Swan; achievement, Nancy Stekly; citizenship, Tania Granoff.

Two fifth-graders won certificates from the Daughters of the American Revolution for excellence in American History. They were Sayward White and Kathy Bishop.

OUT TO PASTURE

BY SUSAN STONE

Whenever you fish the Carmel River for trout or along the coastline for salmon, bass or steelhead, credit should go to the noble racehorse! Wildlife Restoration projects in California have been developed and maintained in large measure by horse racing's contributions to the State Treasury--a little-known fact!

Since 1947, California has been placing part of the pari-mutuel take in a special fund for the conservation of fish and game and related recreation. Three million hunters and fishermen have benefited from the many things that the pari-mutuels have financed during the 16 years since the law took effect.

The state pari-mutuel tax on horse racing annually amounts to approximately 40 million dollars and these funds are allocated to such agencies as the General Fund, Fair and Exposition Fund, and indirectly, to the University of California and the California Polytechnic College as well as to Wildlife Conservation.

Could it be that, through the General Fund, the pleasure horse and his rider and the hiker could benefit from the fleet-footed thoroughbred by having riding and hiking trails provided as a recreational facility? The hunter in the duck blind, the fisherman on the shore, and the boat launcher at the lake are all afforded enjoyable recreational facilities through the pari-mutuels. Yet acquiring areas for riding and hiking and the preservation of the countryside more often than not loses out to miles and miles of concrete.

HURD ELECTED TO BANK ADVISORY BOARD

William A. Burkett, president of Security National Bank of Monterey County, announced today that Mr. Vernon Hurd and Mr. Charles French have been elected to 4-year terms as members of the bank's Advisory Board.

Mr. Hurd resides in Carmel Valley on San Carlos Ranch Road. He is general manager of Holman's Department Store and director of the California Retailer's Association. He is also former chairman of the board of the California Association of Employers, past president of the Monterey Rotary Club and is now president of the board of trustees of the Community Hospital.

Mr. French, owner of the French Glass Company, has also served on the Pacific Grove City Council.

Mrs. Laura Otteson Becomes Buyer For Holman's

Mrs. Laura Otteson of Middle Canyon Road, as director of Carmel Valley Community Chapel's Junior High group, has just wound up her volunteer commitments for the year. "But I decided I'm not ready to retire yet!," says she.

Mrs. Otteson has joined the staff of Holman's Department Store as buyer for the Sportswear department. Before moving to Carmel Valley, she held a similar post for 8 years at Hart's in San Jose.

New Art Gallery

BY MICHAELE SHERRY

The opening of a new art gallery either means the exhibition of more paintings by familiar artists, or paintings by new artists. The new Los Laureles Lodge gallery which just opened on June 14, has a selection of both the familiar and the new.

The gallery, open from 2:00 to 6:00, is operated by a Czechoslovakian-born painter from Australia, Zdenek Rada, who had his first American showing in January. His European heritage and training are evident in the feeling of his abstract and semi-abstract works. The technical elements of his paintings are well-controlled and contribute to the unity of each canvas. We thought his works outstanding among those shown.

In addition, there are three competent works by Richard Lofton, two of Alex Gonzales' highly textural paintings, examples of Joe Ataide's cool and quiet colors, and Marlinde von Ruhs' bright ones. Works by Sam Harris and Charles Thomas are also hung.

School Recreation Program Has Something for Everybody

Tularcitos school will be open from 1:00 to 4:00 p. m. Monday through Friday beginning June 24 to offer playground activities for the 6-10 age group. In addition, arts and crafts will be taught on Wednesday and Friday at the same hours. A program of tumbling and trampoline is available for ages 6-14 on Tuesday and Thursday, and on Monday and Thursday there will be tennis instruction for youngsters 9 and up.

The Tularcitos schedule is part of the Carmel Unified School District's summer recreation program, which last year attracted more than 1200 students, according to William Wakefield, its director. Other activities will be located at River, Woods, and at the Senior High School.

Swimming classes will be offered at the high school pool during two three-week sessions, and Valley youngsters will have bus transportation during the second session which begins July 29. Registration for this second swimming session may be made any time before that date in the high school office. Beginning swimmers must have completed the first grade.

LIFE SAVING

Junior life saving will be offered for ages 12-16 from 11 a. m. to noon daily, and senior life saving for those 16 and over from 4:30 to 6:00 p. m. Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday. To join these courses, youngsters should present themselves to the lifeguard at the pool on June 24. Members of the life saving courses are also eligible for sailing instruction at a time not yet definitely scheduled. Transportation for these activities is the student's responsibility.

Also available for teenagers who can provide their own transportation will be a wide variety of sports including badminton, baseball, volleyball, and golf, all at the high school.

Wednesday evenings from 6:30 to 10:00 p. m. the high school pool will be open for family swimming and the volleyball courts for family games. Monday evenings from 6:30 to 8:00 are also reserved for family swimming, and afternoons, including weekends, from 1:00 to 4:30 are designated Recreational Swimming (everyone). Passes to the pool are priced at $10. 00 per family for the season, $7. 50 per single adult, and $5. 00 per single student. Individual admissions are 20¢ per student, 50¢ per adult. There are no fees for classes.

Hudson Replies

Lower Valley Shooting Laws

In response to several complaints from lower Valley residents regarding youngsters shooting guns near homes in that area, Dorothy Reed last week wrote an article pointing out that there are virtually no restrictions on shooting (1) outside of the CV Fire District or (2) outside a 2-mile radius of an incorporated town. Thus, present laws do not restrict shooting near the many homes which have sprung up in the lower Valley (not in the CV fire district) during the past few years.

Queried on this score, Supervisor Tom Hudson said that he felt confident that similar restrictions for the upper Valley had been responsible for the passage of shooting restrictions for the Upper Valley when the CV fire district was formed, and he felt confident that similar restrictions could be set up for the lower Valley (not necessarily in connection with any fire district) "if the residents wanted it and petitioned for it."

Hudson said he would not favor regulations which merely forbid shooting within a certain distance of existing buildings.

"You can't expect kids 12 years of age to measure something like 150 yards," he said. "Either you forbid shooting, or you don't."

CUB SCOUT NEWS

by Jeannine Bottaro

Den 2 of Carmel Valley's Cub Scout Pack 76 will soon be sporting silver neckerchief slides, honoring them for their outstanding achievements and awards during a recent month. The six Wolves and one Bear Cub have a satisfying year of work and fun to look back on, and a mighty appealing summer ahead.

They planned a tour through the Coast Guard Station in Monterey on Tuesday. Mrs. Ken Van Hagen had charge of the tour as Den mother for the month of June.

In addition to the tour, the boys will have a varied summer with changing Den mothers and meeting places. The mothers of the boys plan to take turns each month during the summer. Mrs. Patricia Cummings is unable to continue the den mother job she has very ably filled since last fall.

The boys, all eight and nine-year-olds, have worked hard on some pretty worthwhile projects. The one they are most proud of entailed building and painting outdoor play equipment for Children's House. They have a personal note of thanks from Mrs Byington Ford for the toys, especially designed by the boys to help the retarded children gain self-confidence and muscle control.

Another gift to Children's House-from the Cubs of Den 3-was a set of plants, started from seeds and grown in pots for the children to watch grow.

During a trip to Clark's training stable in April, the boys watched horses being trained and enjoyed a special show put on by the owner. And when fishing season opened in May, all the boys took their poles to the river for a day. They had so much fun that they soon followed it with another.

When President Kennedy's hiking fad hit, the boys of course had to try a bit of that, and their Den mother timed them on a mile course. In addition to Den activities, each Cub has worked at home between meetings toward the winning of a new badge, involving much time and effort.

Starker White is the most advanced of the Cubs, wears the Bear badge and won second place in the recent Pinewood Derby. Steven Fend, Alan Gardner, Stephen Van Hagen, Gary Cummings, Carey Crockett and Kurt Ladendorf complete the membership.

CV Radio Club

first group in an unincorporated area in California to try this. There is no precedent. Also, matching funds available from the State for equipment purchases must be equalled by funds from the local community. All other groups have had city funds available for this, but here we are not incorporated. We just have to hope we will get the funds from another source." The funds would modernize their volunteered gear, but it would also complete needed emergency equipment to make a more efficient Valley-wide coverage, with mobile and portable units ready to be moved to anyplace in the Valley.

In addition to the firehouse radio, another two-meter mobile station is installed in Ben Viljoen's car, and four more mobile and portable stations are being made operational.

In the spirit of "Hamming," the members urge anyone interested in amateur radio to contact any one of them for explanation and instruction in how to get started in amateur radio.

Coming up in the spring is "Field Day," an annual event anticipated eagerly by amateurs all over the United States. In a free-wheeling radio marathon sponsored by the American Radio Relay League, all amateur operators gather at a high open area (the local group hauls its gear atop Chews Ridge and camps out) and the contest begins to see which group can get the most points for quantity, quality and distance of contacts with other hams within a 24-hour period. The members take turns all night manning the rigs and logging "QSO's," or contacts. The activity not only gives the operators yearly fun, but invaluable practice, also, in operating under simulated emergency conditions.

Sancho Panza Benefit

BY MICHAELE SHERRY

The benefit for Dave Walton's Sancho Panza Coffee House, which was badly damaged some weeks ago by fire, was a "huge success" at Ring's in Monterey last Sunday. At least $1,500 was netted which will be used to help rebuild the Sancho Panza.

From noon until 6:00 p. m. loyal friends of "Sancho's" packed Ring's restaurant in downtown Monterey to see a variety of entertainment. Jerry Coker, jazz instructor from Monterey Peninsula College, played with a small combo and accompanied Patti Coker who sang. Carmel teacher Joe Broadman and Alicia Lovett added folk music. Eric Barker read selections from his poems. Chamber music was called on account of noise.

The art auction earned over $800 by itself, and almost everyone left the benefit with a painting, silkscreen, photograph, or a piece of pottery.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

BY BONNIE HOLBROOK

After many months of negotiations, the board of education has voted the approval of construction of a cyclone fence along the east boundary of Carmelo School. A previous owner of the bordering property had requested this action during the '61-'62 school year. The present owner, August Wercken of Big Sur, gave permission to erect the fence, but declined to pay part of the cost. He states that he does not live on the property and is not aware of any damage done by children chasing balls, etc.

In discussion before the board's vote on the question, Orville Rogers reported that there had been no reports of damage during this school year, but Superintendent Stuart Mitchell said that it is customary for fences to be built where school lands adjoin private property. Dr. Richard Snyder moved to accept the low bid of $1,069 and the motion carried, with Clayton Neill and George Yates dissenting.

Mitchell recommended that the board withhold any action on the teachers' salary schedule pending action by the state legislature on aid to school districts.

Real Estate

During the years I operated a real estate office in Carmel, I always thought it might be fun to live on the other side of that summer fog bank.....Finally, I tried it, and for two years I operated a branch office in Carmel Valley Village.....Now I know!! It's wonderful!!!

On June 15th I closed our Carmel office. Our Valley office is now our headquarters.

Stop and see us or phone us whenever we can help you in our little pink house beneath the oaks as you enter the village.

MRS. HAZEL MILBOURN had quite a surprise when Brigadier General James Sutherland, Jr., (left) commander of Combat Developments Command Experimentation Center at Fort Ord, "unveiled" a tank named in her honor, and Col. Carl Edmondson, commander of the 194th Armored Brigade, CDCEC's major troop unit, presented her with an honorary lifetime membership in the brigade.

MRS. MILBOURN HONORED

Mrs. Hazel Milbourn, of 67 Boronda Road, was honored last week in recognition of outstanding educational assistance to personnel of the U.S. Army Combat Developments Experimentation Center.

At a surprise Fort Ord ceremony, CDCEC commander Brigadier General James W. Sutherland "unveiled" an M-5A1 (General Grant) tank which had been christened "Hazel" in Mrs. Milbourn's honor, and then presented her with an honorary life membership in the 194th Armored Brigade.

Mrs. Milbourn has been a civil service Education Advisor at Fort Ord since 1951 and as Supervisor of the Education Center's High School Division she has arranged an accelerated program of high school classes for CDCEC personnel. Mrs. Milbourn served as the first WAAC Service Command Director in the Ninth Service Command during and after World War II.

Moving to Carmel Valley in 1950 from Seattle, Washington, Mrs. Milbourn and her husband John built their home on Boronda Road. Mrs. Milbourn is a member of the Carmel Valley Garden Association, the Carmel Valley Gem and Mineral Society, and the Northwest Shell Club.
